Arrangements

We at The Lee Wood Hotel understand the need for consideration and care at difficult times and in particular when the passing of a loved one is involved.

Our friendly team of professionals will ensure that the Celebration of Life is conducted according to your wishes, with sympathy and respect.

We have made a number of suggestions that you may wish to consider when planning to host a gathering of close relatives and friends on this occasion.

Please feel free to come and have a no obligation chat with us and be assured of our understanding at this time being very flexible towards meeting your requirements.

We appreciate that it is not always easy to predict how many guests may attend such gatherings. We will always cater for the minimum number that you advise us however should more attend than you anticipate then we will do our utmost to satisfy the additional requirement either with the same or similar.
